AUSTRALIAN WOOD

Aussie Home and Floor's Australian Native range offers a square-edged, matt-finished hardwood flooring with an earthy, effortless aesthetic. Engineered for consistent quality and structural stability, the flooring uses a low-shrinkage Eucalyptus miscellaneous core and robust Australian hardwood. Its production incorporates the licensed Välinge locking system, enabling single-action installation for quick, instant floor enjoyment.

Blackbutt

- ▶ A timber with generally straight grain and even texture, featuring heartwood ranging from golden yellow to pale brown, occasionally with a pinkish hue. The sapwood appears lighter, and small gum veins may be visible.

Spotted Gum

A premium Australian native hardwood prized for its durability, strength, and striking appearance. Highly regarded by architects and designers for its attractive back-sawn grain, distinctive markings, and vibrant color palette.

Tasmanian Oak

- ▶ A blend of three Eucalypt species native to Tasmania, producing timber with colors spanning pale cream to pink and reddish-brown. Logs are quarter-sawn to achieve an extremely straight and even grain.
